

BENKELMAN BEAM

PURPOSE:

It is used to measure the deflection of flexible pavement under moving wheel load. Pavement surface deflection measurements are the primary means of evaluating a flexible pavement structure and rigid pavement load transfer. Although other measurements can be made that reflect a pavement's structural condition, surface deflection is an important pavement evaluation method.