Research Scholar, Birla Institute of Technology and Science, Goa, India

I am a doctoral Candidate at Birla Institute of Technology and Science, BITS Pilani, Goa Campus, India. I have been granted the prestigious Junior Research Fellowship (JRF) for the doctoral program by the University Grants Commission, Government of India. My dissertation focuses on “Negotiating Nation and Citizenship: An Ethnographic Study of Tibetan Youth-in-Exile in India.” Currently, I am working in the areas of political science and international studies with a particular focus on the Tibetan community in exile and the question of the nation, citizenship, belonging, and identity; diaspora and migration studies; refugee and exile communities; and the question of small states in IR.
